Internship Description:

The museum's Rooftop Ramble exhibit is a four-season green roof with outdoor play space, gardens, live animals, composting, greenhouse, renewable energy exhibits, and an indoor Clubhouse for classes and workshops. Rooftop Ramble interns will assist with outdoor education and sustainable urban agriculture programs, assist with garden maintenance and live animal care including chickens, homing pigeons, rats, aquarium, and terrarium displays. If you enjoy gardening, cooking, animal care, composting, teaching, and learning, this is the internship for you! This internship focuses on maintaining Madison Children's Museum's rooftop garden. This 7,000 square foot urban green roof includes vegetables, herbs, edible flowers, rare Hmong plants, native perennials, living willow fences, green walls, woodland garden and pond. The Urban Agriculture/Horticulture intern will assist in the upkeep and maintenance of the garden grounds, including plant propagation in the greenhouse, garden planning for next spring, watering, pruning, weeding, fertilizing, new plantings, and winterization. The Urban Agriculture/Horticulture intern will also teach visitors about these and related topics through daily interaction and special programs. The internship may periodically include maintenance of Madison Children's Museum's other outdoor spaces and grounds. A final project related to Urban Agriculture will be required.
